WARREN COUNTY

There's concrete evidence that borough traffic is in a sorry mess. It appears in today's Allegheny, The Magazine Serving Kinzua Country, in the B Section. That evidence is a cement truck, which our photographer followed through the borough in a series of photographs during the evening traffic jam. The concrete almost had time to set before the truck made it. Other features in today's Allegheny: the Rouse Home, which will have a new wing dedicated tomorrow; Becky Thatcher Day for the playground set; and a story with photographs on Don Neal's trip to the Campenion held downstate this summer.

Charges have been filed against seven Warren County youths for a series of crimes committed in the area since the beginning of summer. The investigation was made by Deputy Sheriff Richard Hegerty and State Police Trooper Harry Jabo. Page One.

Traffic and parking will be the topics of prime interest at a meeting of Warren Borough Council Monday. Changes in qualification for promotion in the police department will also be on the agenda. Page One.

A full schedule of events has been arranged for the Warren County Fair, which opens Wednesday at the fair grounds west of Pittsfield. A free family show will be presented opening night. Page One.

THE NATION
WASHINGTON — A dozen Senators added their voices to the rising storm of congressional protest over the course of South Vietnam's presidential elections, charging that they were being turned into a "fraud." The Senators warned that improper election procedures were undermining the basis for American involvement in Vietnam. The protests in the Senate were touched off by Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Robert F. Kennedy. Page One.

SPORTS
Recreation Softball League playoffs opened last night at Carbon Memorial Field with City Ice and Beverage rallying to nip Mineral Well 3-2 and Towne and Country walloping Twin Drive 13-6. The series continues tomorrow evening. Page A6.

Veteran St. Louis Cardinals quarterback Charley Johnson has received notice for induction into the Army on August 22 and will be lost for the season. Two rookies and a one-year man will bid for the job as first-string signal caller. Page A7.

Rex Baxter Jr., continued his assault on the Firestone Country Club course yesterday: carding a two-under-par 68 to retain the leadership in the $100,000 American Golf Classic by two strokes. Jack McGowan trails Baxter, with Arnold Palmer another stroke back. Page A7.

'Allegheny' Is Name of Feature Tab

Rose Servidio of 535 Buchanan st., Warren, yesterday was named the winner of the $50 award offered by the Times-Mirror and Observer for a name for its Saturday feature supplement. The name selected was "Allegheny." That's all. No frills, no stretching the truth, and no vague descriptions. Just "Allegheny."

The title was chosen by the judges — the management of the TMO — because it captured the spirits of the area we serve by using the name of the river that has molded the geography, the history and the future of the area.

The name was linked by Miss Servidio to the Potomac River in Washington, which served as the inspiration for the magazine section of The Washington Post.

The first issue of Allegheny, The Magazine Serving Kinzua Country, appears in today's publication.

IN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

Senators Charge Viet Fraud

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — A dozen senators from both parties, charging that the South Vietnamese presidential elections were being turned into a "fraud" "farce" and "charade" by the ruled military junta, warned yesterday that improper election procedures were undermining the basis for American involvement in Vietnam. Some suggested that if the elections were not conducted fairly, the Administration should "begin making plans to get out" of Vietnam. The rising congressional criticism was met yesterday by an invitation from the South Vietnamese government for Congress to send observers to insure that the elections were "free" and "open to scrutiny by all."

BULLETIN
Democrats in the 25th Senatorial district last night selected two attorneys as their choice for delegates to the state constitutional convention.

They are Gordon Dagheri of St. Marys, Elk County, and Max Gabreski of Oil City, Venango County.

Unsuccessful aspirants to nomination were Frank Happand Robert Dilks of Warren and Jack Still of McKean County.

Gabreski and Dagheri will appear on the November ballot.

George Christian, the White House news secretary, reaffirmed President Johnson's "desire for fair and honest elections in South Vietnam." He said U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker was giving this high priority.

Other Administration officials contended that South Vietnamese civilian candidates for the presidency were trying to make political capital out of their campaign difficulties and "we are egging them on by playing their politics back here." They urged Americans not to prejudice the fairness of the Sept. 3 elections.

Warren Borough Council To Consider Traffic Law

Warren borough council faces a full agenda when it convenes at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Among some of the matters to be considered at the meeting that will be of considerable interest deal with traffic and parking ordinances.

Residents in the area of Sixth ave. and East st., who have witnessed many a traffic mishap at that unmarked intersection, are concerned with an ordinance that would place a STOP sign which would halt east-west traffic on Sixth. A STOP sign will also be considered at Eddy and 5th streets.

The town fathers will hear a resolution approving the lease agreement with the parking authority for the Liberty st. parking lot and an ordinance regarding parking meters in that same area.

Other items on the agenda include resolutions changing qualifications for promotion in the police department; agreement for lease of a fire truck from Jamestown, N.Y.; a public hearing regarding acceptance of Falconer st. and one approving agreement with the Redevelopment Authority.

Other ordinances up for consideration would prohibit distribution of hand bills, false reports for police services and an ordinance regarding setting of fires. Council will also learn of the resignation of Charles H. Frantz as a member of the planning commission.

Police Arrest Seven After Area Larcenies

The arrest of seven persons—four adults and three juveniles—has climaxed a series of burglaries, car thefts and malicious mischief in Warren County since June 20.

An investigation by Chief Deputy Sheriff Richard E. Hegerty and state police trooper Harry W. Jabo, continued since July 22, led to the arrests.

Hegerty said yesterday that following the arrest in July of Herbert Lyle Proctor, 21, RD 2, Sugar Grove, four additional arrests were made.

He said Proctor, who was AWOL from the Marine Corps, admitted burglarizing the Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club on Mead Run rd. in Youngsville between June 18 and 20, but told police he was alone.

The deputy said Proctor's story lacked credibility so the investigation was continued. Apprehended and charged for the same burglary were William Porter, 19, 8 Morrison st., Warren; John Perrin, 19, RD 1, Pittsfield and John Harkins, 19, also of Pittsfield. Hegerty said a 17-year-old juvenile of Warren was also implicated in the Youngsville incident.

Charges against Stewart, Perrin and Harkins were filed before Peace Justice Fred Berry and the juvenile was referred to probation officials.

Jabo and Hegerty said they learned the same five were involved with burglarizing Beach's Store at the intersection of Jackson and Mathews Run roads the same night as the previous entry. They also admitted taking baked goods from Morley's Super Market in Youngsville, according to the investigators.

Taken from the Brokenstraw club was a bottle of whiskey and a quantity of food. At Beach's, where a small amount of cash was stolen, Hegerty said, the quintet was almost caught in the act by the owner, who came downstairs in time to see one of the burglars in flight.

Hegerty said his suspicions were aroused when Proctor stated he had hitchhiked to burglarize the three places. The time element, the deputy said, didn't add up.

A second continued investigation following the arrest of Richard Charles Dunn, 20, RD 1, Pittsfield, and a 17-year-old Pittsfield youth for 13 car thefts, involved other incidents.

Hegerty said the pair was specifically charged with malicious mischief in regard to about $8,000 damage to a pole digger mounted on a truck. The equipment, owned by C.C. Mix, was vandalized on Irvine Run rd. According to the deputy, Dunn, a second 17-year-old juvenile, of RD 1, Clarendon, and the Pittsfield youth were charged with the burglary of a cash register from Penn-View Service Station on Route 6.

Hegerty said the register was thrown into the Warren Water Company's reservoir at the top of Morrison Run. He said although a skin diver attempted to recover the unit, muddy waters made it impossible. About $40 was stolen in this incident, police said.

Other charges have been filed against the trio, including the larceny of three vehicles in New York State. One, stolen just before Christmas last year, was recovered in Warren borough. A car stolen at State Line Speedway was recovered in Pittsfield and the third, stolen early in June, was recovered in North Warren.

Since these thefts involved transporting the vehicles across a state line, the FBI is also questioning the three.

They are also charged with stealing two other vehicles, a car from North Warren, recovered in the Yankee Bush area, and a pick-up truck, taken on Yankee Bush rd. and recovered in the Keller Hill area.

The group, Hegerty said, are charged with the larceny of eight radiators from Davies & Sons, Conewango ave., ext., which were sold to a local scrap dealer for about $45, and of two fenders and a rear seat speaker from William Gern of Pleasant Township. The latter operates a small scrap place above the radio tower.

Hegerty said another juvenile is suspected of being involved in the radiator job and will be apprehended shortly.

Two men are in county jail, while the other has been released in custody. The others posted bond and all the juveniles will be turned over to proper authorities. Charges against Dunn were filed before Peace Justice Raymond Gilmore and he is in jail in default of bond.

Proctor, who had already been sentenced by the court, was picked up yesterday by military police after serving time in jail since his arrest.

Soviets Said Ready For Nuclear Treaty

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has told the United States it wants to join in presenting a treaty aimed at curbing the spread of nuclear weapons.

U.S. disarmament chief William C. Foster gave out this word at the White House yesterday—then arranged to return at once to the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference to wrap up final details with his Soviet counterpart, Alexei Roschin.

"We are in the process of a final solution of the problem," Foster told newsmen after calling on President Johnson.

The sudden word from the Kremlin that it is ready to join in proposing a draft pact marks a major step forward in long negotiations—but there still is a long way to go before a treaty comes into force.

Assuming the two nuclear superpowers speedily agree on final treaty language, it remains to be seen whether the atomic have-not nations will join. There has been mounting pressure in some against permanently renouncing future national rights to an atomic arsenal.

Under the proposed treaty, the nuclear powers would agree not to give atomic explosives to others. The have-not powers would also pledge not to receive them.

The United States and the Soviet Union already have parallel policies against giving any atomic weapons to third countries—but it has taken them more than two years of on-and-off negotiations to agree on the wording of a nonproliferation treaty for consideration at the Geneva parity.

As matters now stand, Foster said, the Big Two still have not settled on a safeguards provision to insure against treaty violations.

Thus the plan is to present a joint draft at Geneva with the safeguards proviso left blank. The idea is to let the other Geneva powers examine the proposed treaty and put it in final shape, Foster voiced hope this could be done in time for the U.N. General Assembly session this fall.

Whether the treaty is presented at the United Nations or elsewhere for signature by countries around the world, Foster acknowledged that France and Red China—building their own nuclear weaponry—do not intend to join. However, he also expects them not to be handing out their atomic warheads to others.

HUCK FINN-BECKY THATCHER CONTEST WINNERS

'Buddies' Leave Titusville Man In Corry Lurch

CORRY -- A couple of "buddies" left a Titusville man stranded in Corry early Thursday morning when he parked his car on East Main st. and went into Ike's Billiard Parlor for a sandwich. Joseph Mortimer reported to police at 12:30 p.m. that he had left two passengers in the car but they left without him and took his car, adding insult to injury.

Corry city police contacted Titusville police to keep an eye peeled for Mortimer's car since he intends to file charges against the pair. Both live near Titusville. Mortimer told officers the men who took the car are Bruce Bedow and John Sutton.

Corry Man Charged

Carl Johnson, 19, RD 2, Corry, was charged yesterday with interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Corry state police said he was arrested after he crashed the stolen vehicle into a fence. They said Johnson was taken to Erie, where the charges were filed by the FBI. The car was allegedly stolen in New York State Thursday.

Burglary Loss

An inventory of items taken from the Union City Country Club pro shop earlier this week showed the loot valued at $3,800, according to state police of the Corry substation. Trooper John Evanko, who is investigating said burglars got away with 123 balls, 23 pairs slacks, 13 sets of clubs, eight sweaters, six golf bags, four pair shoes, six wind-breakers, eight golf carts, 14 women's blouses, 30 pair mens sox, six umbrellas and 16 pairs women's peds.

Suspicious?

Corry city police received a call Wednesday night that a jeep was parked on Russell rd. near the Corry Country Club and that no one was around the vehicle. Officers aware of the number of golf course burglaries in the area recently, immediately went to the scene. They found a Bear Lake man and his son getting night crawlers on the course.

TO PUT DOWN MERCENARIES

Congo Asks U.N. for Help

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Congo asked yesterday that U.N. members help put down the mercenary uprising in that country and keep the conflict from spreading to neighboring Portuguese Angola. Congolese Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko made the request in a letter to French Ambassador Roger Seydoux, president of the Security Council this month. The letter was circulated as an official document of the 15-nation council a day after Seydoux got it through the Congolese U.N. delegation. Bomboko asked Seydoux to "invite the members of the Security Council and countries friendly to the Democratic Republic of the Congo to supply, as soon as possible, logistic support or assistance of any other kind for maintaining order in the region." He said this should be done "in order to combat the activities of mercenaries inside the country and to avoid a possible extension of the conflict which might endanger peace in central Africa and particularly in Angola." Bomboko told Seydoux that a number of former mercenaries for onetime secessionist Katanga Province in the Congo were now at Luanda, Angola, with two planes. He said that at Luanda, which was the Katanga separatist capital under the name of Elisabethville, radio communications had been intercepted between two bases in Angola and antigovernment troops in the Congo commanded by Belgian-born Maj. Jean Schramm. Schramm's force, which he counts at 160 European mercenaries and 800 former Katanga gendarmes, now holds Bukavu in the northeastern Congo and seems intent on escaping into neighboring Rwanda. Government troops have been jockeying to cut it off. Schramm told reporters Thursday he would leave the Congo only when all his men were safe.

Scotland Yard Foils Art Forgery Swindle

(c) N.Y. Times News Service LONDON — Scotland Yard has foiled an attempt by a gang of art forgers to introduce paintings into Britain as part of one of the most extensive art swindles in history, according to a report by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

In a late night news program last night the BBC said Scotland Yard detectives, working with FBI and Interpol agents, this week impounded nine paintings at London airport with a face value of more than $700,000.

The near-perfect canvases, all attributed to old masters, were accompanied by expertly forged customs certificates. The works were said to include Rembrandts, Constables, Rubens, and Picassos. Some of London's art experts have been asked by Scotland Yard to inspect the forgeries in an effort to trace their origin.

The seizure at London Airport was said to be only a small part in a worldwide police effort aimed at ending the art swindle, reportedly involving works worth more than $70 million at face value. The police action here supposedly foiled an attempt by the gang to introduce the paintings into Britain.

The gang has been operating out of California recently, the report said, distributing a catalogue of fakes that include some of the world's great masterpieces. The FBI became suspicious and alerted Interpol to be on the lookout for the forgeries.

BRITISH FACE CHINESE TROOPS

Reinforce Hong Kong Border

(C) N.Y. Times News Service HONG KONG -- British troop reinforcements were moved up to key points on Hong Kong's border with China yesterday following an incident in which a government official and a British army officer were held captive by workers from the Chinese side for six hours. The government official, who was threatened with a knife, an axe and steel cargo hooks, was forced to sign a document demands but a government spokesman later said it had "no validity."

About 20 soldiers and policemen at Man Kam To, where the incident took place, surrendered their arms when workers made it clear that they would otherwise kill the official. The British authorities closed the border to traffic at the scene of the incident and several other points, but workers twice yesterday forced their way across and fought with guards on the Hong Kong side. Three policemen were injured in a second scuffle. Members of the regular Chinese army (People's Liberation Army) took no part in any of the incidents although they could be seen at their usual posts. On previous occasions, Chinese soldiers have been seen attempting to dissuade workers from creating incidents but they did not intervene yesterday.

British soldiers and police officers in the border area expressed the opinion that the Man Kam To incident was something of a humiliation for the Hong Kong authorities on which local Communists could be expected to capitalize in their continuing agitation against the government. "We did not lose any lives," a police officer said, "but we certainly lost face."

The official involved in the incident was Trevor Bedford, a district officer. The workers had engaged him in discussion of a number of complaints at Man Kam To Police Post yesterday afternoon. The police post is beside the bridge over the Shum Chun river that marks the border at this point. Workers usually cross into Hong Kong from China at Man Kam To to handle produce shipped into the British territory.

$150,000 Probe of Riots is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ordered yesterday a $150,000 investigation of racial rioting, after refusing to adopt a requirement that the inquiry cover the social and economic ingredients of city violence. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., the man who will preside over the inquiry, said those items will be covered anyhow. After a three-hour debate, the Senate voted 36 to 26 against an amendment which would have called specifically for the inclusion of social and economic factors in the riot inquiry. Then it passed the inquiry resolution 59 to 0.

The resolution authorizes McClellan's panel to investigate riots, violent disturbances, vandalism, criminal and civil disorder, insurrection, their causes and potential preventive measures, both immediate and long range. McClellan said that wording assures a full investigation of all questions involved.

Senate Turns Down Auto Deal of LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted yesterday to expand the Export-Import Bank's lending authority after forbidding it to finance purchase in the United States of machine tools for an automobile plant in Russia. It adopted by a voice vote an amendment by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., barring the Export-Import Bank from aiding the Fiat automobile company of Italy in the purchase of $30 million of U.S. equipment for a plant Fiat is building in the Soviet Union.

President Johnson had endorsed the Fiat auto deal. Mundt hailed the action, saying it shows "we have had enough of self-defeating moves" and this sounds a death knell for Johnson's efforts to increase East-West trade. He added belief it is "likely to shorten the war in Vietnam." Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York promptly challenged his Republican colleague, saying the bill cannot possibly effect Russia's supplying of arms to North Vietnam. He added his opinion that the Fiat deal will be privately financed in this country—and if it isn't "it will be financed like a shot" elsewhere in the free world. The bill's main provisions would: —Extend the life of the bank for five years, to June 30, 1973. —Increase the limitation on its loans, guarantees and insurance permitted to be outstanding at any one time from $9 billion to $13.5 billion. —Boost the bank's authority to issue export credit insurance and guarantees from $2 billion to $3.5 billion. —Prohibit bank financing of exports to Communist countries.

Romney, Rocky, And Scranton Meet for Talk

(c) N.Y. Times News Service NEW YORK — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will spend the weekend at the summer home of Gov. George Romney of Michigan on Mackinac Island, Rockefeller's office announced yesterday. Rockefeller's office said former Gov. William S. Scranton of Pennsylvania was expected to join them. Rockefeller's press secretary declined to say whether the meeting was being held to discuss Romney's chances of winning the Republican presidential nomination next year.

IF HE WINS IN VIET ELECTION

Thieu Pledges Bombing Pause

By R. W. APPLE JR. (C) N.Y. Times News Service SAIGON -- Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state and the military's candidate for president, said yesterday that he would try to arrange a one-week pause in the bombing in North Vietnam if he won in the Sept. 3 election. Thieu said he would urge the bombing pause as "an additional gesture of good faith" when he proposes peace negotiations to North Vietnam sometime this fall.

He conceded, however, that he was "personally quite sure" that neither his peace initiative nor any other would be accepted by Hanoi until North Vietnam was "sufficiently weakened." That, he suggested, might take years. Thieu made the comments in an interview with 10 Western correspondents at Independence Palace here.

Meanwhile, the presidential campaign remained stalled, with the leading civilian candidates refusing to make speeches or hold rallies until the government has formally replied to their statement of grievances. Many Vietnamese were describing the whole electoral process as a fiasco. In an effort to meet the civilian demands, the government last night sent them a letter signed by a relatively minor official, Nguyen Van Tuong, the Special Commissioner for Administration.

The letter cited the electoral law as saying that "the campaign should be carried out by the candidates themselves" and implicitly refused to accede to the candidates' demand that the government accept responsibility for the recent mixup at Quangtri. Informed sources said the civilians were still studying proposals for a mass withdrawal from the election. The sources also reported that a request for a postponement of the balloting or further denunciations of the government were possibilities.

Soviets Protest China 'Hooligans'

(C) N.Y. Times News Service MOSCOW — The Soviet Union charged last night that Communist Chinese "hooligans" had rampaged aboard a Russian ship that was forcibly detained in the Chinese port of Dairen while local authorities "captured" the vessel's captain.

In a formal note of protest, the Soviet Foreign Ministry declared that the ship, the Svirsk, had been held for an unspecified time. Yesterday, the note continued, a crowd of about 1,000 gathered on the dock. Many of the Chinese "stormed" the ship, the Soviet note charged, and tried to manhandle members of the crew.

"The rampaging hooligans wrote and pasted all over the ship dirty slogans containing threats and insults against the Soviet state and its people," Moscow charged.

The note, delivered to Peking's charge d'affaires in Moscow, called the boarding "a planned provocation intended to further complicate Soviet-Chinese relations." It charged that "the unprecedented bandit action" took place in the presence of Chinese authorities and with their connivance.

The Soviet government demanded the immediate release of the captain, the ship's unhindered exit from Dairen and punishment of those guilty of the excesses.

The note did not specify for how long the Svirsk had been detained, the reason for her detention nor the nature of her cargo.

Despite the bitterness of the Chinese-Soviet verbal war, trade between the countries continues. A new trade agreement for this year was signed last month. The total value of such trade is estimated at around $400 million a year. The bulk of it is believed to be carried by sea.

In the port of Dairen, in Manchuria, a Soviet freighter was detained for 20 days last December on charges of violating port regulations.

That incident was disclosed in an announcement by the Soviet Marine Ministry. This contrasts with yesterday's more serious measure of a formal diplomatic protest, made public by Tass, the Soviet Press Agency.

In reporting the earlier incident, Moscow charged that it threatened normal shipping between the two countries. It made a similar complaint last month in announcing that Peking had refused to renew a routine agreement for joint maritime rescue operations.

Preminger Room is Film Fan's Dream

(C) N.Y. Times News Service NEW YORK — Otto Preminger sat down on a 10-foot-long blue sofa in front of a marble-topped coffee table.

The film director leaned forward and gave the tabletop a nudge. It rolled back, exposing an illuminated panel of 26 buttons, switches and dials. He pressed a key and a low whirring sound answered his touch.

Simultaneously, vertical blinds shut, a wall-to-wall motion picture screen began its descent over the windows and a painting slowly moved upward, revealing twin portholes of a projection room.

The 28-foot-long viewing room is in the two-and-a-half story addition made two years ago to the top of the Preminger home here. The design of the room, indeed the entire house, and the choice of all its furnishings and art objects were dictated by the 60-year-old Viennese-born film man, whose penchant for perfection is famous.

Showing the house to a visitor recently, he reluctantly admitted to helping design the table from which he can operate the 16 and 35 millimeter machines, stop the painting midway up the wall and control the sound and blinds. Other buttons operate the television, hi-fi and radio with speakers concealed behind rosewood panels below the windows.

Motors powering the complex equipment are cased in a column on the balcony above the projection room.

The ultramodern engineering is matched by the furnishings and art throughout the house. "I am not an art collector," said the director in his strong

DETERMINED TO MEET AS EQUAL

Kiesinger to Meet LBJ

By DAVID BINDER (C) N.Y. Times News Service BONN — Chancellor Kurt

Georg Kiesinger will travel to Washington Sunday determined to meet President Johnson as an equal and ready to defend West Germany's interests.

On the eve of his first official visit to the United States, the chancellor gives the impression of a man relaxed and self-assured because he sees himself as a representative of a Europe which he expects to be more closely knit and more independent in the future.

Kiesinger is making the trip at the request of President Johnson for the formal purpose of continuing the dialogue on mutual problems they began in April at the time of the funeral for Konrad Adenauer.

Originally, the chancellor was supposed to go to Washington early in July. But he had to postpone the visit because of pressing cabinet decisions on budget planning. It was President Johnson who picked the time for the coming talks, Aug. 15-16.

Kiesinger's stance appears to be a new one for a West German chancellor. His predecessors, Ludwig Erhard and Konrad Adenauer, projected themselves as distinctly junior partners of the United States.

There is no arrogance in Kiesinger's stance, but he seems to have firm convictions about the weight and value of West Germany on the international scene.

"Politically we are one of the middle states," he said in an interview Thursday. "While in economics and trade we are in the top group. That is our real international significance. We are no longer a great power. The government knows this and the people know this."

All-Out War Is Ordered In Nigeria

(C) N.Y. Times News Service LAGOS, Nigeria — Federal and rebel troops in Nigeria's five-week-old civil conflict have been ordered by their commanders to drop self-imposed restraints and fight an unlimited war.

An announcement in Lagos yesterday said Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, head of the Federal military government, instructed his forces "to carry out full-scale military operations against the rebel forces wherever they are." The statement also quoted the commander in chief as ordering "an all-out drive until the rebellion is completely stamped out."

U.S. Jets Cut Hanoi Bridge

(C) N.Y. Times News Service SAIGON — United States fighter-bombers cut the rail and highway bridge across the Red River at Hanoi yesterday — an important link to China, the port of Haiphong, and the Hanoi airport.

The U.S. Command in Saigon, in a special announcement, said Air Force Thunderchief and Phantom jets knocked out a section of the span, called the Paul Doumer bridge with four direct hits.

The spokesman said there were no immediate reports of opposition losses to American attack planes.

The bridge, also called the Hamrong, which means "Dragon's Jaw," is a 19-section steel structure set on piles across the mile-wide river. An island divides the waterway into two channels, of which only

'Decision-Making' Is Shafer's Topic

Governor Raymond P. Shafer this week called upon officials in local government to improve their "decision-making capacity" and to adopt modern business techniques in conducting the day-to-day affairs of the public.

Shafer made the request at the 81st annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Commissioners in Philadelphia.

The governor said the State had taken the lead in giving an example of what could be done toward achieving more efficiency in government.

For example, Shafer said, his administration had acted on plans that could save the taxpayers some $8 million a year. "These actions include a job freeze and abolition of long-term vacancies to save $6 million," Shafer said.

Shafer also pointed to the state's decision to lease back data-processing equipment to save $237,000; reuse of the state-owned cars to save $150,000 and new purchasing techniques in the Department of Highways in acquiring paint mix.

The governor also noted an anticipated $600,000 saving in the merging of the Department of Public Health and Welfare.

Shafer then called upon the county commissioners to join with him in bringing modern government to all Pennsylvanians, stating the best place to start was on the local level. He said here is where citizens become most readily involved in community affairs, which is central to sustaining a democratic society.

U.S. Senators Hugh Scott and Joseph Clark also addressed the convention.

Convention members on Wednesday, after a lengthy discussion, passed a motion to have separate ballots for delegates to the Constitutional Convention. The present plan is to have delegates names placed first on November general election ballots and according to party affiliation.

the eastern is navigable for deep-water vessels.

A section of the bridge over the eastern channel was knocked out in the bombing. The U. S. Command's spokesman said the pilots had cut the capital off from all supplies of imported materials except what is brought up the river.

The Red River was among a number of important targets that were immune from attack up to now. The list still includes Haiphong, three MIG bases, dikes and dams and a number of industrial installations.

An international furor arose last December after attacks on a rail center six miles east of the Red River. Hanoi said that bombs fell in a residential area just west of the bridge that was bombed yesterday and caused damage and civilian casualties.

President Johnson ordered a halt in bombing within 10 miles of Hanoi and Haiphong, which is 50 miles east of the capital after the controversial raids Dec. 13 and 14.

The 10-mile bomb ban was lifted on April 18 with authorized strikes against a power plant in the edge of Haiphong's city limits, coupled with a massive attack against the Thainguyen rail and steel complex 38 miles north of Hanoi.

With the exception of the attack of the Hanoi thermal power plant inside the Hanoi city limits June 10, American strikes have stayed well away from the capital, although a number of targets have been hit within five miles of the center of Haiphong.

Borough police tapped on street parking meters this week for $512.98. Municipal parking lots showed an increase with $182.25 collected.

House, Senate Committees Clash on Aid

(C) N.Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — House and Senate foreign policy committees disagreed yesterday over the foreign aid program and differed so completely on its scope and direction as to assure a head-on collision between the two branches later.

With $433-million separating the money ceiling recommended in the foreign aid authorization bill, the Senate Foreign Relations and House Foreign Affairs committees disagreed completely on such issues as the sale of military weapons on credit, the number of countries that should receive economic or military aid and whether administrators of the program were following the intent of Congress.

In support of its $736-million slash in the administration request for nearly $3.4 billion the Senate group scoffed at the idea of "continuing foreign aid on an 'as usual' basis with a war going on." It said a rigid limitation on the number of countries receiving aid was essential "as a means of discouraging foreign policy reliance on 'check book' diplomacy."

In a contrasting view the House committee said the "foreign aid is a pragmatic program that permits a continuity in the furtherance of our foreign policy objectives as well as an immediate response to unforeseen crises and any diminution would impair our national interests and endanger our national security."

The House panel ordered cuts of $305 million in the Administration's overall authorization request — about $274 million of it in economic aid.

Heavy Rains End Drought in State

HARRISBURG (AP) — Heavy rains have ended Pennsylvania's worst drought record.

A State Health Department official says most communities have taken steps to make certain of adequate water supplies should another prolonged dry spell occur.

For five straight years, from 1962 through 1966 Pennsylvania and most of the Northeastern United States suffered through a drought that dried up water supplies, withered crops and turned forests into tinderboxes. Many communities were desperately short of water and had to impose severe restrictions.

Now, however, Pennsylvania's fields and lawns are green, its lakes and rivers full and the soil rich and moist.

Harry A. DeWire, chief of the Health Department's Water Supply Section, said yesterday that many communities, especially those hardest hit by the drought, have had new water storage facilities built.

He said the York Water Co., which last summer had to bring a daily supply of water into the city by truck, recently built a 1.8 billion-gallon reservoir.

Hanover, about 15 miles from York, also built a reservoir.

DeWire said that during the drought, his department ordered every community that had a water shortage to do an engineering study in order to find more sources of water. He said practically all communities have complied with the order.

Word that the drought was officially over came from Nelson Kauffman, climatologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau at the Harrisburg-York State Airport.

He said that although the state had below normal rainfall in June, the rainfall for July and the first 10 days of August was well above normal.

He said the remainder of August "looks like it will be wet." Fortunately, he said, most of the rain has fallen in the Susquehanna Valley and Southeastern Pennsylvania — the areas most severely affected by the drought.

O. D. White, hydrologist at the weather bureau, said the river flows are the best they've been in several years and that the soil moisture is good.

"The state is back to normal," he said.

Crime 1966: A Sorry Picture

Almost 3 1/4 million serious crimes reported during 1966; an 11 percent rise over 1965.

Risk of becoming a victim of serious crime increased 10 percent in 1966 with almost 2 victims per each 100 inhabitants.

Firearms used to commit more than 6,500 murders, and 43,500 aggravated assaults in 1966.

Daytime burglaries of residences rose 140 percent in 1966 over 1960.

Property worth more than $1.2 billion lost as a result of 153,400 robberies, 1,370,000 burglaries, 2,790,000 larcenies, and 557,000 auto thefts. Police recoveries, however, reduced this loss by 55 percent.

Arrests of juveniles for serious crimes increased 54 percent in 1966 over 1960, while number of persons in the young age group, 10-17, increased 19 percent.

Arrests for Narcotic Drug Law violations rose 82 percent, 1960-1966. Narcotic arrests 1966 over 1965 up 28 percent influenced primarily by marijuana arrests in Western States.

Police solutions of serious crimes declined 8 percent in 1966.

Politics In The Wine

HARRISBURG — Fifteen bartenders were only half way through two tons of chopped ice at Bill and Mary Scranton's 25th anniversary party. Yet, for all the precautions of the host and hostess, politics was seeping into the wine. And the message from national Republican leaders began coming clear for Pennsylvania's former first family at the summer soiree at their estate in North Abington Township.

Under a sprawling circus tent at "Marworth," Sen. Keating of New York, Govs. Romney of Michigan, Chafee of Rhode Island, Volpe of Massachusetts — and a dozen other Republican headlines — carried a single message:

"The national ticket, to win in 1968, requires solid vote — getting candidates on the local tickets for Congress and the U. S. Senate, in Pennsylvania, Bill Scranton would be that kind of a candidate for the Senate."

This is the message that continues to roll into the Scranton, Pa., suburbs — largely at the instigation of Ray Bliss,

The Fate of Israel

(Substituting for Joseph Alsop)

Finally Gamal Abdel Nasser seems to have decided, if not to recognize Israel's sovereignty, at least to recognize the sovereignty of the reality principle in political life. Any commentator who has spent some time in Egypt, as I did once during the between-wars' period, recalls Mohammed Hassanein Heykal, Nasser's crony and favorite editor, and therefore policy spokesman, I remember dancing attendance on Heykal for a week, trying to arrange an unrehearsed interview with Nasser — one that would not be a previously prepared and edited questions and answers session.

Heykal has made news this week with an editorial calling for the resumption of diplomatic ties with the United States, on the very factual ground that Egypt "cannot afford a head-on clash" with American power.

What this means is that the policy pursued independently both by Israel and the United States, of standing firm and allowing the Arab states a chance for some long reflective thoughts on their situation, is starting to pay off.

Nasser may have been prodigal in his thinking by some harsh facts of life: that Egypt's canal revenue has stopped, that its tourism revenue has collapsed, that his cotton crop is of little use because of a boll-weevil affliction, and that his Soviet patrons have little stomach for another prestige defeat as disastrous as that of the Arab-Israeli war.

While the Russians have recouped most of Nasser's plane losses and perhaps half his tank losses, they don't want to hang around their necks the albatross of subsidizing another war while trying to mend a sick Egyptian economy.

One is tempted to ask, if the wintry hostility of Egypt to America begins to thaw, can the spring of Arab-Israeli negotiations be far behind? It would be an optimistic way of putting the question, yet not recklessly wishful.

Jordan has already reached an accord with Israel on the return of the Jordanian refugees to the west bank of the river, now held by Israel. The thorny question of Israel's sovereignty was somehow resolved by a refugee application form under three auspices — Israel, Jordan and the United Nations — which isn't a bad formula for later peace negotiations.

There is a Soviet-American plan for Israeli withdrawals (from how many areas?) after direct Arab-Israeli peace talks, and there are reports from Cairo that Nasser is willing finally to drink this bitter tea because he is the only Arab leader with enough strength to propose it and survive. Syria and Algeria (What is Boumedienne's game?) still talk of this as surrender and treason, but the coming Arab summit meeting at Khartoum will give Nasser, backed by Jordan, the Saudis, Tunisia, Morocco, Yemen, the Sudan, a chance to ask the hold-outs what alternative they propose.

Within this context I have been re-reading some of the recent magazine pieces by left-wing American commentators, urging Israel to cut its ties with America and the West, and to seek a "socialist" destiny as part of the total Arab power pattern in the Middle East. Reading them you have to rub your eyes in disbelief and dismay at how far from reality an ideological bias can carry knowledgeable writers.

The fact remains that Israel is tied neither to the West nor the East by the kind of dependence that Nasser now has on the Soviets. It buys its arms where it can, including France and America, and even Charles de Gaulle's latter-day bitterness against Israel does not mean that the French will let the Israelis shift their plane contracts to the British firms. As the Arab states shift closer to the Soviet Union it is natural that the American governments, in Latin America as well as North America, should have a stronger stake than ever in Israel's survival and strength, as a counterbalance to the Arab-Communist alliance.

But Israel is not tied to the West. It is tied to modern science and technology, which are largely Western and without which it could not have survived. And it is tied to the Jewish people, to which the Jews have historically contributed, and obviously it has strong psychological and moral links with the American Jewish community.

JAMES RESTON

An Unproved Assumption

(c) N.Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — Two quite contradictory moves are now underway to influence the course of the war in Vietnam. First, the Administration is now probing very quietly again in Hanoi and elsewhere to try to end the fighting. And second, the old militant coalition of leading military and naval officers, Republican political leaders and Democratic committee chairmen is at work again to extend the bombing in North Vietnam.

Reston

Very little can be said about the first point without interfering with the peace feelers. Also there is no evidence this time that the campaign for bombing new targets in the north is designed to interfere with the peace probes. In fact, the Republican leader in the House, Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan apparently does not know that the President has renewed his search for a compromise settlement.

Nevertheless, the pressure for adding new bombing targets at this moment only adds to the difficulties of getting anywhere with the peace feelers, and Ford's strategy for victory makes more sense politically than it does militarily.

The Republican leader wants the "maximum" use of US conventional air and sea power against North Vietnamese targets now on President Johnson's prohibited list; a sea quarantine or blockade of all of North Vietnam; and a prohibition against sending any more American troops to Vietnam until the bombing restrictions are lifted.

This has obvious political appeals. Ford is against higher taxes. He holds out the prospect of less ground war and fewer casualties. He opposes "marching the enemy body for body, bayonet for bayonet, grenade for grenade," but would hit him harder from afar and seal off the sea routes into the North Vietnamese harbors.

Militarily, this raises a less attractive prospect. It suggests that the war in South Vietnam can be won by fighting it in North Vietnam. It rests on the assumption, which is by no means proved, that the enemy in the south would be strangled by hitting a few more targets in North Vietnam, and that China and the Soviet Union would tolerate a sea blockade of the North Vietnam ports.

These are dubious and even dangerous assumptions. First, a substantial amount of the enemy's ammunition is actually manufactured in the south or shipped in through Laos and Cambodia. Second, General Westmoreland is authorized to hit 85 percent of the targets in North Vietnam on his list. The other five percent are off limits not for military but political reasons, namely that the civilian heads of the U.S. government, who still make the political decisions here, believe the prohibited targets are too near civilian centers or too near the China border to justify the risk of wiping them out.

"Our first objective," says Ford, "should be to impose a sea quarantine on North Vietnam." This raises an awkward question, which the Republican leader does not answer. What happens when Soviet ships, bringing supplies to Haiphong by sea, are intercepted by our warships? Is it Ford's view that the Soviet captains will turn around and go home, or permit their vessels to be searched by the U.S. Navy? And if they do not turn round or submit to our orders, do we then blow them out of the water?

Ford criticizes Johnson's conduct of the war, but his strategy, like the President's, assumes that Russia and China are going to allow North Vietnam and the Viet Cong to be deprived of the means of carrying on the struggle. And this is precisely what Moscow and Peking have committed themselves not to permit. If sea supplies are blocked, then new land routes will be opened up, and then we will have the argument all over again for more bombing, and new targets of the supplies reaching the Chinese-North Vietnamese border.

It is hard to imagine a worse strategy than Johnson's but Ford may very well have found it. He apparently believes that major nations like the USSR and China will submit to things he knows the United States would never submit to. He knows the US would not tolerate a Soviet naval blockade of Saigon or Danang, but seriously thinks Moscow would tolerate a US quarantine of Haiphong. His answer to the failure of the bombing is more bombing and it will probably come to this as usual in the end.

The 10 Per Cent Surcharge

WASHINGTON — Instead of tacking 10 per cent extra to everyone's tax bill, as President Johnson wants to do, Congress could grant a 10 per cent reduction and still raise enough money to finance the Vietnam war.

This financial miracle could be accomplished, according to Treasury Department experts, simply by closing the tax loopholes.

Ex-Senator Paul Douglas, who fought a lonely battle against tax loopholes for 13 years in the Senate, has said that income taxes actually could be cut in half if the loopholes were plugged up.

Anderson

Our tax structure is riddled with loopholes, some bullet-hole size, some porcupine size. But the most gaping loophole, big enough to drive an oil truck through, is the 27 1/2 per cent oil depletion allowance.

The revenue that seeps through the smaller loopholes and gushes through the oil loophole must be made up by less privileged taxpayers. They are now being asked to pay an additional 10 per cent for guns, tanks and planes, while the oil millionaires spend their share on Cadillacs, caviar and furs. Douglas claims to know one oil millionaire who in 1964 paid less income tax than did a $55-a-week scrubwoman.

The oil depletion allowance is a legalized tax evasion scheme permitting producers to write off 27 1/2 per cent of their oil and gas income. The Treasury Department loses an estimated $2.5 billion each year from this great oil seepage.

As justification, the oil industry argues that there is only so much oil in the ground, and the men who pump it out should get a tax break for running their holes dry.

The 27 1/2 per cent allowance has nothing to do with costs and bears absolutely no relation to the amount of oil depleted. The producers can go on taking the tax write-off until their wells dry up. For the average well, they wind up deducting 19 times the original cost.

There is also nothing sacred about the 27 1/2 per cent figure, despite the reverence in which it is held on Capitol Hill. It was a compromise between the 25 per cent recommended by the House and the 30 per cent favored by the Senate when the oil depletion allowance was first established in 1926.

The appearance of this enticing tax advantage brought other lobbyists swarming over Capitol Hill. Rather than plug the dike, Congress obligingly drilled dozens of new holes.

Now almost 100 minerals get some depletion allowance. Among them are bismuth, clamshells, clay, coal, gravel, lignite, limestone, mica, rock asphalt, sand, shale, soapstone and vermiculite.

Excel in Pinching Liz Taylor

ROME — There were many ways to see the 1960 Olympic games. One of the most interesting ways, but also the most dangerous, was to go to one of the events with Miss Elizabeth Taylor.

The actress stopped off in Rome with her then husband, Mr. Eddie Fisher, and her doctor, Rex Kennamer. Although the Italians love sports, they love women more and Miss Taylor received her share of admiration from the hot-blooded Romans.

Because of the heat, she had only been attending the evening events, mostly water polo. It wasn't that Miss Taylor was a great water-polo enthusiast. It was just that by the time she got ready, water polo was the only sport still going on.

One night I was invited to attend the water polo matches with her, and it was quite an event — not the water polo, but going with her. When we arrived at the swimming stadium the crowds immediately recognized her and surged forward. Helpful hands reached out and touched her and Miss Taylor shouted to Mr. Fisher, "Someone touched my chest."

Buchwald

"Who?" Mr. Fisher wanted to know. All the Italians around us held up their hands to show it wasn't them. We moved forward slowly and suddenly Miss Taylor yelled again, "Someone is pinching me."

Mr. Fisher shouted, "Who?" "I don't know," she shouted. "I'm being pinched in the back." "Where?" the doctor wanted to know. "You know where," Miss Taylor said.

"Bella, bella," the Italians shouted. Mr. Fisher yelled to me, "You protect her in the back, I'll protect her in the front, and the Doc can take the flanks."

The flanks at this point were the most vulnerable, and not only the Italians, but players from Spain and France had joined the sport. The scoring, I figured out later, went something like this: a pinch on the lower part of Miss Taylor's flanks was worth one point. On the lower part of her back was three points and on her chest, which in Italy is the equivalent of a touchdown, was worth six points.

Since I was covering the rear, I had the job of being the goalie. In a sport of this kind, it is considered the toughest position on the field. Several fingers intended for Miss Taylor pinched me instead. "You are not allowed to pinch the goalie," I cried out in pain. But the officials were looking at Miss Taylor and paying no attention to me.

Slowly we made our way forward. The Italians had sent in substitutes and Miss Taylor screamed again, "They're still pinching me."

"Walk sideways," I suggested. But this didn't work either, and the Italians were scoring all over the place.

At this point the photographers joined in and they kept stopping us so that they could take pictures of the event — which was certainly an Olympic pinching record.

It must have been 25 minutes before someone finally blew a whistle. It turned out to be a policeman, and the game was over.

The final score, Mr. Fisher told me the next morning after making the tally, was 334 pinches and 12 touchdowns against the Americans, the worst beating the United States has ever taken from Italy since the Olympic games started.

WILLIAM BUCKLEY

N.H. And the Seekers

To the chagrin of his detractors, the worsening situation in Vietnam is not having a worsening effect on the popularity of Lyndon Johnson, at least not yet. Although opposition to the war is mounting — and not because Americans are tired of resisting Communism, but because they are tired of getting nowhere in the Vietnam war — opposition to Lyndon Johnson hasn't instantly followed, in the sense for instance that opposition to the League of Nations brought instant disillusion with Woodrow Wilson. The Republicans will get around to galvanizing that resistance, which it is the job of the opposition party to do. But meanwhile, President Johnson enjoys his relatively secure position in the Gallup poll.

The challenge for the Republican contenders is therefore obvious. Messrs. Nixon, Romney, Rockefeller et al. would greatly increase their competitive positions if one of them were publicly thought of as having loosed the stone that began the anti-Johnson landslide. It is of course a dangerous business because if you hit Johnson the wrong way — if your fingers are flexed other than exactly as the judo instructors tell you — you are likely to hurt yourself, and not the victim. The criticisms of Johnson cannot invoke a sentimental pacifism; they cannot suggest a dilution in our anti-Communist resolution; nor can they suggest that the thing to do now is to plaster the Asian mainland with hydrogen bombs.

There is maneuvering among the major contenders to formulate just the right approach. (I would suggest that the right approach is: Mr. Johnson is incapacitated from waging the war successfully because of the division in his own party.) The thinking should be completed well before the New Hampshire primary, at which there will be a public exposure of the political utility of an assortment of anti-Johnson positions. The winner, if the victory is clean-cut, will greatly benefit himself and, if we are lucky, the country.

The tendency of the moment, however, is to expect that in New Hampshire and elsewhere the results of the voting will be primarily personal. It could happen that way — if the candidates say nothing, which is after all what candidates specialize in saying. If New Hampshire were to go to the polls tomorrow — without any preparation — to vote its Republican preferences, the choosing between, say, Nixon and Romney would reflect loosely the division between moderate and liberal Republicans. Nobody seems to know for sure just how firm that division is in New Hampshire, which is one reason why there is so much thinking going on about it, and why New Hampshire's importance is so very great.

It being important to win that primary, it is important to formulate positions that are greatly appealing in New Hampshire. One tends to become identified nationally, the coverage of that primary being what it is, with such positions: yet they may not be so successful elsewhere.

What goes in New Hampshire does not necessarily go in California, as we saw in 1964 when Rockefeller beat Goldwater in New Hampshire, both of them running second to Henry Cabot Lodge; and when Goldwater went on to beat Rockefeller in California, both of them having disposed of Lodge.

A civic-minded group, and Lord knows there are enough of them around with nothing very important to do, should break the hold of New Hampshire, and it would be very easy to do. A matter merely of persuading three or four states around the country to advance their primary date to coincide with New Hampshire's. The idea should be as appealing to Democrats (who from time to time also fight in primary contests) as to Republicans. The success of such a movement would ensure that candidates sculpt their programs without overemphasis on the New Hampshire situation. And, besides that, would humanize the whole grisly process, which up until now has required the candidates to visit every grocery store in New Hampshire.

Gerald Ford's statement that not one more American should go to Vietnam until the President rescinds his embargoes on the bombing of crucial targets is a step in the right direction. One wonders whether Mr. Nixon — or Mr. Romney — will identify himself with that position.

SCIENCE SKETCH

AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHS can be viewed in 3-D without using the special red-and-blue filters formerly required, according to the Geological Survey. A new system known as the StereoImage Alternator (SIA) permits the operator to view the projected stereopairs of aerial photographs through rotating cylindrical shutters.

WEEK'S PREVIEW

The CBS-TV network offers nothing in the coming week to vary its routine programming and the two other networks have three specials between them. NBC offers an exciting musical treat on Thursday night with its "An Evening at Tanglewood," featuring the Boston Symphony Orchestra in a live concert from the Berkshire Festival.

ABC-TV probes GOP Presidential planning and prospects and examines the Democratic Party division in a 10 p. m. Thursday special titled "Who In '68?" Friday night, ABC visits the World Boy Scout Jamboree.

The sports scene picks up added color with Saturday and Sunday baseball games, the American Classic Golf tournament on Saturday and Sunday, and an exhibition football game Monday night.

But be of good cheer. In three or four weeks the new fall season will begin and though the new shows may not show much improvement in quality at least they will be new and a temporary relief from repeats and reruns.

DAYTIME CHANGES

Beginning this Monday, Ch. 7 will televise "The Adventures of Superman" at 5 p. m. on a Monday-through-Friday basis. George Reeves stars as the mighty man of steel who, disguised as Clark Kent, the mild-mannered reporter for the Daily Planet, fights the fearsome forces of evil five times a week and in color!

WBEN-TV, Ch. 4, Buffalo, has some daytime program changes starting Monday, Aug. 14. The Carlton Fredericks program, hosted by the celebrated author, nutritionist, college teacher and radio personality, will be seen at 9 a. m. on weekday mornings. The format features interviews with showbusiness people and conversations with eminent physicians. Carlton discusses dieting, foods, exercise, drugs and other phases of acquiring and staying in good health.

Other daytime program changes on Ch. 4 include an all-new "Truth or Consequences" at 4:30 p. m. weekdays and from 5 to 6 p. m. the popular Perry Mason serials take over.

THRILLERS FOR CH. 10

WFBG-TV, Ch. 10, Altoona, will be showing the Triangle Stations package, "The Edgar Wallace Mystery Theatre," consisting of 19 thrillers based on suspense novels by the British author and which made their theatre debuts between 1960 and 1964.

Reputed to be the largest selling mystery writer in the world, even now 30 years after his death, Edgar Wallace is known for his plot mixtures of intrigue and terror with twist endings. He was the author of "King Kong."

Titles in the new film package include The Green Archer, The Door With Seven Locks, The Indian Scarf, The Terrible People, The Fellowship of the Frog, The Forger of England, The Strange Countess, Secret of the Red Orchid, Curse of the Yellow Snake, The Inn on the River, The Squeaker, Room 13, the Black Abbott, The Curse of the Hidden Vault, The Avenger, The Mysterious Magician, The White Spider, The Carpet of Horror and The Red Circle. Happy viewing!

PEOPLE &amp; PROGRAMS

THE PROFESSIONALS, a 13-program package of half-hour color sports specials, has been purchased by a Buffalo TV-station to premiere in February, 1968, with re-runs slated for the following August. The package includes tennis with Pancho Gonzalez, football with Lance Alworth of the San Diego Chargers, baseball with Frank and Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, Golf with Doug Sanders and Sandra Haynie, rodeo with Larry Mahan and Shawn Davis, hockey with Bobbie Orr and the Boston Bruins, basketball with Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia 76'ers and Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers, surfing with Fred Hemmings and Paul Strauch, more baseball with Lou Johnson and Jim Lefebvre of the Los Angeles Dodgers, more football featuring the Los Angeles Rams, horse racing with Eddie Neloy, auto racing with Dan Gurney, and skiing with Anderl Molterer.

C-MON IN — THE WATER'S FINE is a TV series featuring swimming education and water safety for the entire family. 1967 U. S. PARACHUTING CHAMPIONSHIPS recently held in Oklahoma will be seen on ABC-TV's Wide World of Sports in October.

CARLING WORLD GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP will be televised from Woodbridge, Ontario, by CBS-TV on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 3-4 at 4:30-6 p. m.

THE WORLD SERIES OF GOLF, featuring the champions of the world's four major tournaments, Nicklaus of the U. S. Open, Gay Brewer of the Masters, Don January of the PGA, and Roberto DeVicenzo of the British Open, will be televised by NBC-TV on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 9-10 at 5:00-6:30 p. m.

PAT BOONE IN HOLLYWOOD, a new talk-variety program for daytime viewing, has been purchased by WGR-TV, Ch. 2, Buffalo, and WFBG-TV, Ch. 10, Altoona. September starting dates have been announced.

ORSON WELLES will make his first appearance on a taped television show in this country in eight years when he teams up with Dean Martin and Jimmy Stewart in musical comedy sketches for the new season curtain raiser of "The Dean Martin Show," Thursday, Sept. 14.

RIOTS IN DETROIT, Newark, Watts and other areas will be shown in an NBC-TV special scheduled for Sept. 15. Helping NBC prepare the documentary is Daniel Moynihan, director of MIT-Harvard Joint Center for Urban Studies and author of the controversial report on Negro family life.

THE HUNTLEY-BRINKLEY REPORT seen in early evening may appear a little crowded late this month when four new faces will join David and Chet. Four NBC reporters have been permanently assigned to the program, John Chancellor, Jack Perkins, Sander Vanocur and Douglas Kiker.

JOHN MCINTIRE, wagonmaster of TV's old "Wagon Train" show, will make a series of guest-star appearances on "The Virginian." He will portray Clay Grainger, younger brother of Shiloh Ranch owner John Grainger, played by Charles Bickford who is convalescing from bronchial pneumonia.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 12, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — The more serene you are, the easier you will ride through this day. Carefully consider all the activities open to you. Then select only those which will benefit you mentally, physically and emotionally.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — Avoid being led astray by those who are heedless of consequences, careless of responsibilities. You will face more distractions than you think, so keep up your guard.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — A good period for studying past complex situations and how you coped with them; comparing present conditions. Inspiration should be at a peak now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — Be patient if you encounter delays and obstacles to your plans, but don't retard progress yourself through vacillation, indecision. Step forward with confidence.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — An excellent day for reviving old associations, contacts, hobbies. Be generous, when there's need, but without extravagance.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Benefic Mercury influences indicate that you have more leeway than usual in promoting the unique and unusual. Do make the most of present stellar help.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — Important now: Foresight and attentiveness to good advice. Don't fictionalize where straight facts are in order. There's a prevailing tendency to dramatize things.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22) — Survey chances; some should be rewarding. Plan on some expansion but curtail where necessary. Get your picture in focus, and you will benefit later. Accuracy in details!

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — Even though you may feel that your inner resources are insufficient to achieve your goals right now, keep trying. It's that extra spurt of effort which can turn mediocrity into success.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Ask yourself what the consequences will be before you engage upon a new venture or make changes in projects now running smoothly. Utilize your connections in profitable ways during the P.M.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Planetary configurations now sponsor novel pursuits, imaginative revitalizing of all interests. Display your talents in marketable areas.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Certain suggestions must be ignored; others accepted quickly, put to discerning use. The Picean's gift for seeing through a maze of complexities should result in a field day.

YOU BORN TODAY are a fair-minded person who weighs all possibilities before making decisions, who aims to make those decisions for the good of all, not a few — which is, perhaps, the reason why so many judges, lawyers and executives have been and are Leo-born. You are suited to science, the performing arts, the law and music. You are not dismayed by truly big jobs; responsibility rests well on your strong shoulders. Capitalize on your wonderful versatility. Birthdate of: Robert Southey, Eng. poet.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

FIRST AID FOR DROWNING

It has been said that a drowning man breathes water with pleasure once he stops struggling. According to Spectrum, persons saved from drowning report an intense burning pain or a feeling of apathy and indifference.

In most drownings, spasm of the larynx occurs, which is voluntary at first and prevents water from entering the lungs. This reaction is temporary because the spasm subsides when the victim becomes unconscious. Meanwhile he swallows large amounts of water which comes up and may be aspirated into the lungs.

Basically, death by drowning is the result of swelling of lung tissues and lack of oxygen to the brain. The time factor is critical because the rescuer must concentrate on supplying air and not waste precious seconds draining the lungs. Mouth-to-mouth breathing is the preferred method of artificial respiration.

Open the airways by removing any debris from the mouth and holding the head in extension to keep the tongue from blocking the throat. Mouth-to-mouth breathing can be accomplished in shallow water almost as well as on land. The rescuer can be assured that the victim is getting oxygen so long as the chest of the victim expands when air is blown in.

Those with a heart beat usually can be saved. There are, however, exceptions. If the pulse has stopped, external cardiac massage is advisable. It can be combined with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Perseverance is important — don't stop first aid measures even while the victim is on the way to the hospital.

TOMORROW: Walking Aids in Arthritis.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

SPREADING MOLES

Mrs. C. C. writes: Five years ago my son, who is now 11, had little brown spots form on his back which got bigger until they were the size of moles. Is there any way to stop them from spreading?

REPLY

Some moles appear several years after birth, hence a satisfactory answer to your question is impossible, without examination of the lesions. May I suggest that you take your son to the family physician?

VEHICLE STUDYING

R. R. writes: I commute to school daily and do my studying on the train. My mother says I'm ruining my eyesight. Do you agree?

REPLY

No. Reading on a moving vehicle is more difficult than reading at a desk, but vision is not affected. Millions of workers read newspapers or magazines daily on train or bus without the slightest wear and tear on the eyes.

COINCIDENCE

S.M. writes: Does a person with spastic colitis end up with ulcerative colitis?

REPLY

No. If ulcerative colitis should develop, it probably is coincidental. On the other hand, those with ulcerative colitis usually have considerable spasm because the bowel is irritated.

DIPHTHERIA IN ADULTS

F. S. writes: Can adults develop diphtheria?

REPLY

Yes. No age is immune, altho the disease is more common in childhood. Some years ago, a 63-year-old woman came down with the disease. She had been baby sitting with a child who had diphtheria.

MYOPIA AND EXERCISES

D. A. W. writes: Can nearsightedness be cured by eye exercises?

REPLY

No. Wearing glasses takes care of the defect.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT —

Rouse Home New Wing Dedicated Tomorrow

By PEGGY AND LEW CRIPPEN

Elias S. Cohen, commissioner of the Office for the Aging, Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare, will deliver the major address at 3 p. m., tomorrow, when the commissioners of the Rouse Estate dedicate the $1,000,000 nursing home wing. The new building, two years under construction, will increase the capacity of the Rouse Home by 113 beds and provide Warren County with one of the most modern and efficient homes for the elderly in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Hon. Alexander C. Flick, president judge of Warren County, the Hon. Richard C. Frame, state senator, and the Hon. Albert W. Johnson, our member of the United States House of Representatives, will speak. The instigators, a Warren barbershop quartet, will sing several selections and the Tru-tones, a Pittsfield band, will provide instrumental music and play the Star-Spangled Banner following the presentation to Administrator Kenneth N. Greenlund of a flag which was flown over the U. S. Capitol on the 143rd birthday anniversary of Henry R. Rouse, October 9, 1966.

Lewis L. Crippen, chairman, Commissioners of the Rouse Estate, will preside as master of ceremonies. D. H. Lay, Commissioner, will accept the building when presented by Beck, Tinkham & Beyer, Jamestown, architects. Father John T. Carter, pastor of St. Clara's and St. Anthony's Roman Catholic churches of Clarendon and Sheffield, will give the invocation. The Rev. Spurgeon D. Witherow, Jr., pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren church, Youngsville, will present the prayer of dedication and benediction.

The new structure, the first in a three-phase improvement program, increases the capacity of the Rouse Home by 113 bed spaces in single, two bed and four bed rooms, each with lavatory and connecting toilet facilities. The three new nursing units contain 47, 35, and 31 beds, respectively, and a nurses station, utility room, dayroom, shower and bath facilities. The complete unit has a modern kitchen, two dining rooms, two doctors examining rooms, and occupational therapy areas. The two story structure is connected to the 'old' building by stairs and an elevator. Two upstairs patios provide opportunities for outside recreation for the thirty-five guests who will have their rooms in that nursing unit.

Every room is 'attached' to the nursing station by a communication system which provides audio and visual contacts. Speakers are located in the large gathering rooms and will be served by F.M. music over WRRN. Each room has an outlet for piped in television, utilizing the facilities of Youngsville T.V., Inc.

The new building is completely equipped with the most modern of beds, bedroom furniture and supporting installations.

The Commissioners plan to occupy the new facility as soon after the dedication and open house as state inspections will permit. The women's building will be temporarily vacated, redecorated, and then used as an ambulatory building for both men and women.

The third phase will be the entire renovation and remodeling of the 'old' building. The Commissioners have applied to the Office of General and Special Hospitals for a Hill-Harris federal grant to render the building fire resistant and to provide general offices, a library, a meditation chapel, medical and dental service areas, barbershop and beauty shop, office for the supervising nurse, a homemaker-aides' training center and a 25 bed nursing station. The state agency will give the application final consideration in November.

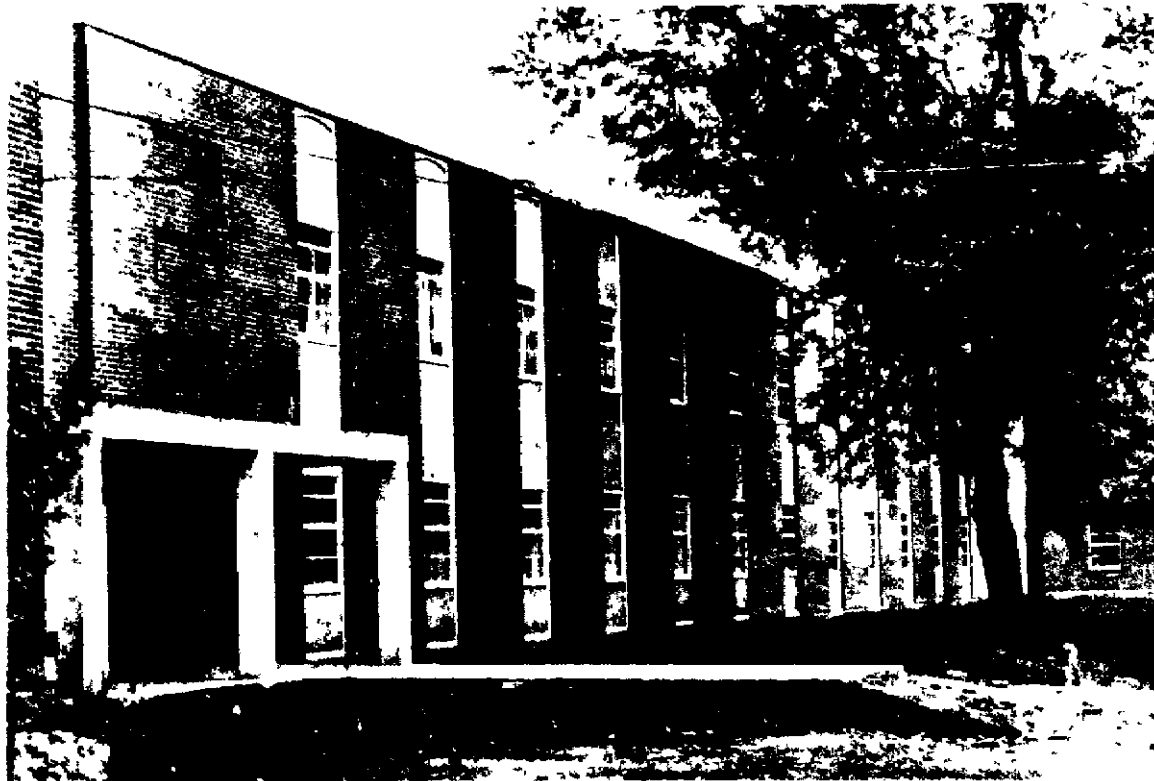

The new structure has been named the Haskell Wing in honor of Frank Haskell. On December 15, 1961, Richard M. Haskell, trustee, presented the Commissioners of the Rouse Estate $100,000.00, a portion of his father's estate, to be used for general purposes of the Rouse Home. The bequest has been deposited in the Pennsylvania Bank & Trust Co. drawing interest at 4½ percent annually. Although the $100,000.00 was not used to finance the new nursing home, the Haskell gift was a major incentive in the Commissioners' decision to update its facilities.

The Rouse Home is named for Henry R. Rouse who died tragically in a fire at one of his own oil wells on April 17, 1861. The thirty-seven year old teacher, businessman and state legislator, left the residue of his estate to be divided "one half of it to the poor of Warren County." This bequest totaled $93,000.

The Commissioners of the Rouse Estate, Inc., was formed by special state legislation, and the Commissioners of Warren County have served as the administrators of the Corporation for more than a century.

Through the years the Rouse Home has expanded to over 650 acres. It has periodically changed the principal purposes of its services to meet the changing requirements of the poor. Today, it is exclusively a nursing home for the elderly indigent.

When the three-phase improvement program is completed, the Rouse Home will be the most modern and efficient facility of its kind in Pennsylvania. It is a memorial to the citizens of Warren County and their desire to provide the very best in care for their elderly citizens.

Lacrosse, popular in Canada and the eastern part of the United States, developed from a game played by Canadian Indians. In the old days as many as a thousand warriors might take part in a game, and the game might range over several miles of territory.

Borough council has been trying to find at least a partial solution by a change in parking regulations, particularly on Pennsylvania avenue, prohibiting parking on the south side of that main thoroughfare. The subject comes up again Monday and has already been opposed by the retail division of Warren Area Chamber of Commerce.

But the Chamber is split on the subject, since the industrial committee is very concerned with the traffic problems and their effect on the economy. There must be an answer, but until it's found it's still about 4:30 p.m. any day of the week in Warren borough on Pennsylvania avenue. Photographs tell the whole story.

It's about 4:30 p.m. any day of the week in Warren borough on Pennsylvania ave. The scene is familiar to those who travel the arduous route to the east or to the west—to say nothing of the motorists who attempt to enter the avenue from any of the access streets.

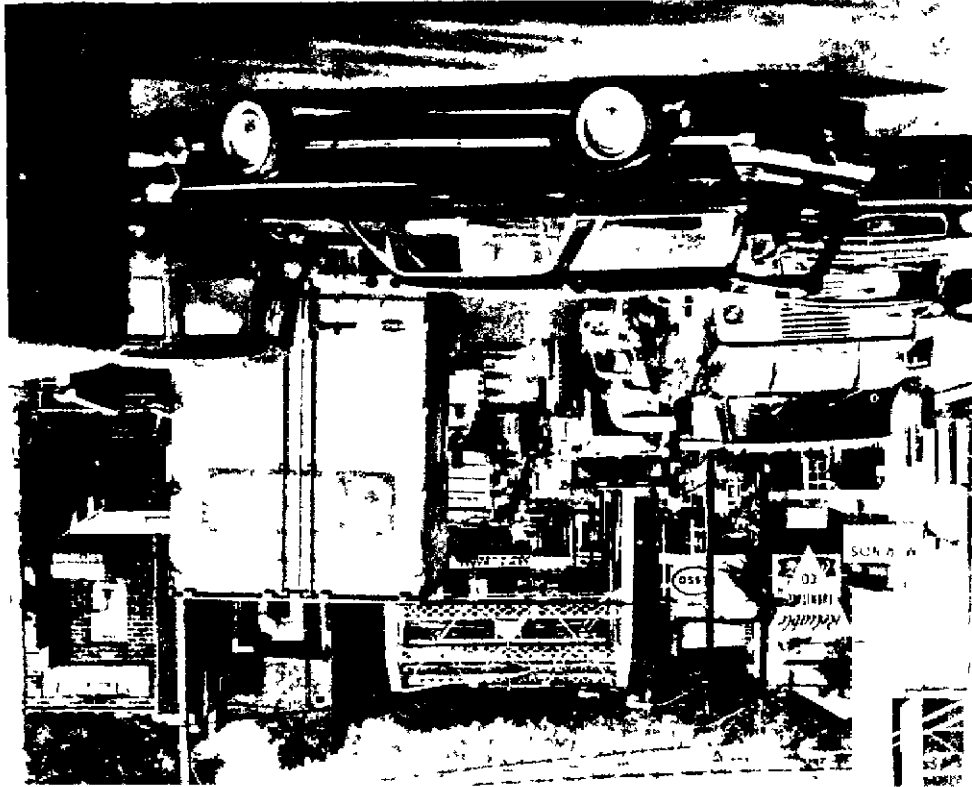

The photographic study on the cover page provides "concrete" evidence that it's mighty slow going. It took the operator of the cement mixer vehicle about 13 minutes to navigate from the Market street intersection to the Penn-Franklin shopping center—three blocks.

TMO outdoor writer Don Neal, who attends a varied number of meetings throughout the state, reports that not only is Warren acclaimed for the Kinzua Dam but also has the rather dubious distinction for difficulties encountered driving through the borough.

While some of the congestion results from the thoughtless driver who pulls ahead to block the intersection, bumper-to-bumper traffic every day because of the volume of vehicles poses a real problem.

A City Is Born Overnight

By DON NEAL

Clearfield and Blair county highways were crowded recently with "camper" traffic as thousands of mobile camping units made their way to the 8th annual campvention of the National Campers and Hikers Association at Prince Gallitzin State Park.

And on the grounds especially prepared for their coming a fantastic city grew into being as visitors from almost every state in the nation moved in to occupy the spaces reserved months in advance.

By Sunday evening it was estimated that some 30,000 persons from 37 states were already on the grounds and word kept coming into headquarters of individuals and groups still on the road but heading for campvention city.

In addition to the thousands milling throughout the campgrounds, nearby towns and cities were flooded by campers in search of souvenirs and sporting equipment. Coalport, only four miles from the park; Patton, also close by; and Altoona were the favored shopping centers.

A full year's preparation went into planning the event. Among some of the facilities that had to be installed to accommodate the huge crowd were; a 400,000 gallon water tank, 200 showers, and 400 toilets. In addition, a complete supermarket was set up in a former dairy barn and several miles of wire was installed to service the 120 public address speakers spotted throughout the sprawling colony.

In their role as host, several Pennsylvania clubs were assigned to welcoming clubs from specific states and helping the visitors get settled and acquainted.

Of particular interest among the 30,000 campers was a camper registered from the 50th state, Hawaii, and Grandma Emma Gatewood of Cheshire, Ohio, who walks all the way to every campvention.

Grandma Gatewood is famed as a hiker. She has hiked across the United States at least once, and had covered the length of the Appalachian Trail twice. Yet the aged woman (79 years old) walks a pace that would tire those much younger in short order.

A full week of activities were planned by the officials of the NCHA to entertain the visitors. A "Night On the Town" at Coalport on Wednesday, and the annual campvention parade in Altoona on Thursday were billed as the highlights to take place off the grounds. On the grounds almost continuous activities were scheduled throughout the week.

The July 13th parade in Altoona was one of the largest ever staged by the association. Each of the states was represented by at least one float. Walking units, teen-queens and seven bands made the parade the largest ever held in Altoona.

To honor the campvention, Governor Shafer signed a proclamation designating the week of July 9-16 as Pennsylvania Camping Week. Secretary of Forest and Waters Maurice Goddard officially represented the state.

Fifteen trailer-family members of the Kinzua Campers were registered for the week-long event.

ONLY ONE—Earlybird arrivals at one of the seven sections allotted for the placement of trailers were busily setting up housekeeping throughout Saturday afternoon. Campers in this section were predominantly from the "deep south." Headache

Hill, the center of operations, rises in the background with trailers of NCHA officials clustered around the 400,000 gallon watertank.

TAKING IT EASY—Ready for a week of hard going, but taking it easy after a trip to the concession stand, were Helen Schumann, Marcelle Hagerman, John Hagerman, and Walter Schumann of the Kinzua Campers.

HONORED GUEST—Grandma Emma Gatewood, who has walked from central Ohio to central Pennsylvania to attend the campvention talks of her trip with a friend.

Hogan, Ross Davis, Laurie Anderson, Myrtle Davis, and Marian Anderson. Eleven more families from the Warren area were expected to arrive at the campvention throughout the week.

By James P. Dorow,
Pastor,
Saron Lutheran Church,
Youngsville, Penna.

We live in a remarkable age. It is an age of change, of speed and of power. Consider the changes that have come in this century. We have advanced from the Kitty-Hawk to the Apollo Spacecraft, from the wireless radiotelevision in living color, from the Model T to the turbine powered automobile, from the pot-belly stove to central and automatic heating and air conditioning. We can boast of much human progress. But other changes have taken place. Our age is the age of the Hydrogen Bomb and of the Intercontinental Missile. With every advancement for man's benefit, it seems that we have produced more sophisticated devices for his destruction. With every change for the better, there seems to be an equal decay in man's ability to cope with his problems. So our age has also become the nervous age of the tranquilizer.

Much of the change that has come in our age has been good. But much has been bad. What is the solution? Simply to go back to some of the age old truths that never change. God is the same yesterday, today and forever. His will never changes. He still calls upon all men everywhere to love mercy, do justice and walk humbly with their God.

Our age is also an age of speed. We go everywhere and do everything at a much faster pace than our grandparents would have dreamed possible. Everything is geared to speed whether it is travel, communications or production. This is not necessarily bad.

What has happened however, is that we have failed to stop and take stock of the psychological and spiritual needs of the human race.

Rev. James Dorow

So we have turned our society into a frustrating treadmill of activity going faster and faster but finding that we aren't coming any closer to a life that is satisfying. Once again the solution is simple. Our Creator says, in the scriptures, "Be still and know that I am God." We don't need to cut back production or the pace of providing goods and services. Rather we need to take advantage of the time that has been saved to commune with God to find a purpose and direction for our lives.

More recently we have been able to see that our age is an age of power. We see it in the newspapers and on television and often first-hand in the streets. There is air power, sea power, nuclear power, economic power, political power, black power, white power, and so on. The unfortunate thing about it all is, that we have not yet learned how to balance and control these powers so that peace and justice might prevail. This has happened because people, being what they are, choose to rely entirely on these various powers rather than of the God of all power who alone is able to bring order out of chaos.

The time has come when man can no longer deny and ignore his need for divine help and guidance. Man cannot find his way to peace and happiness with things, with speed or with power. Jesus Christ said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Our age has shown that our own methods and devices do not achieve man's highest goals. Let us therefore begin to put our destiny into the hands of the only person who can lead us to a glorious age. The promise of Jesus Christ is as valid in our age as it was in past ages, "I am come that they may have life and have it more abundantly." Only by trusting in him and his promises will we make this a wonderful age in which to be living.

A POTPOURRI OF THIS AND THAT includes the news that the Friendly Neighbor Club of Russell was entertained at the home of Mrs. Clarence Carlson Jr., with nine members and one guest present. The evening was spent reminiscing on the founding of the "Dodgers Country Club". Refreshments were served after a brief business meeting by the hostess and her daughter. An outdoor coffee party is the next event the Friendly Neighbors will enjoy—it will be held on Wednesday, September 6th, at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George Olson, Lakewood, N.Y.

THEN, THERE'S THE CLENDENNING-FRIENDSHIP SCHOOL reunion set for Saturday, August 19th. This will be the 54th reunion and apparently those attending are to take part in the program—This I gathered from the way the invitation is worded: "Be prepared for the program"! Falconer Park in Falconer, N.Y., will be the setting for the event. Dinner will be served at 1 p.m., with the committee providing coffee, sugar, cream and ice cream. All others are to bring tureens and table service. If more information is desired, Mrs. Carl H. Johnson, reunion secretary, should be contacted.

AND, HERE'S A FASHION NOTE that seems smart and sensible to me. According to the Max Factor Beauty & Fashion Forecast, they are now packing a new and exciting paper-fashion style—white, pique-embossed paper collar and cuff sets for the college crowd and the younger ones.

MINIATURES: The Pairs 'N Spares of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church are planning an outing that sounds like fun—A boating party at Kinzua Lake for Sunday, August 20th. More on this later in the week.

The Russell Faith Bible Church called in, too late for the church page, that the speaker tomorrow morning at 11, and again at 7 p.m., will be layman Russell Jenkins.

Warren American Legion Aux. Entertains Gold Star Mothers

The American Legion Auxiliary of Chief Cornplanter Unit No. 135 held its annual dinner for Gold Star Mothers this Tuesday in the Legion Home. The dinner theme, carried out in gold, included placemats and candles, and baskets of fresh flowers which were donated by Mrs.

Esther Carnes.

Each Gold Star Mother was given a yellow rosebud corsage and a small gift.

Special guest speaker for the evening was Miss Dawn Rice who attended Keystone Girls State. Miss Rice mentioned highlights of the 1967 Session of Keystone Girls State which was held at Shippensburg State College from June 18 to 25, with 212 girls from all over Pennsylvania in attendance.

The speaker noted that the purpose of the conference was to learn the processes of city, county and state governments. The program is set up and sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary to promote a better understanding of democratic politics and to help outstanding Pennsylvania girls to become better citizens and leaders of the United States.

Miss Rice, who represented Warren Area High School at the convention, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rice of 5 Edgemont drive. She was sponsored by American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 135 of Warren. This fall she will be a senior at the high school.

At the annual dinner, a report was also given by the delegates and alternates who attended the Department Convention held in Pittsburgh from July 19 to 22.

At the conclusion of the evening, Mrs. Margaret Day expressed thanks for the dinner on behalf of all the Gold Star Mothers present, and for the baskets of flowers given to those who held the lucky numbers.

The next meeting of the Legion Auxiliary will take place on September 12, when installation of officers will be held.

Halgren-Wilcox Auxiliary Meets

Mrs. Robert Williams entertained the American Legion Auxiliary Halgren-Wilcox Unit 658 at her summer camp on the Allegheny river. Nine members were present, with guests Mrs. Patrick Connolly and her children, and, Mrs. Richard Eastman and her children.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Milton Brown, president. It was reported that the original charter, with names of auxiliary members in 1925, has been newly-framed and is now hanging in the Legion Home. Two of the charter members, Mrs. Herman Mourer and Mrs. Kenneth Wood, were present at the meeting. Mrs. Mourer was also the winner of the door prize.

The next meeting will take place on Tuesday, September 12, at the Legion Home.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Do you have any advice for a high school girl whose mother is always bringing strange men home? My father is dead and I realize my mother is lonely but I think she should not entertain men all night when she has a teen-age daughter. It is terribly embarrassing to wake up in the morning and meet a stranger wandering around the apartment.

I can't have a boy friend in after a date because I don't know what we might find when I open the front door. I wouldn't dream of asking a girl friend to spend the night with me because I never know who might show up at the breakfast table.

I have one year and a half before I can leave and go into nurses training. But what do I do until then? — NO PLACE LIKE HOME

DEAR NO PLACE: Of course it is disgraceful that your mother shows such little consideration for you or respect for herself, but her outrageous behavior is an indication of how mentally disturbed she is.

Your mother needs professional help. Let's hope someone will steer her to it. As for you, I'm sure you'll live through the next 18 months O.K. You sound like a young lady who has her head on straight.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please tell me what to do about a husband who cannot stand to let his wife enjoy a telephone conversation?

If I am upstairs talking to a friend, or to my mother or my sister, my husband gets on the extension and clicks until I hang up. Sometimes he will walk past me and holler, "Get off the phone, your three hours are up" — or something equally rude. It isn't that HE wants to use the phone, it's just that he hates to see me enjoy myself.

I do my housework, cook good meals — nothing is neglected, least of all him. Please tell me how to deal with my 34-year-old problem. — NO PHONY

DEAR NO PHONY: Your husband is a spoiled noodnik who feels left out if he is not the center of your world. Whenever possible, do your telephoning when he is away. Before you make what may turn into a chatty call, ask the big baby if HE wants to use the phone. Offer to get him a cup of coffee, an apple or a good book. Tell him you are making a call and you don't want to be interrupted. If he clicks the receiver or yells into the phone after that, simply ignore him, make no apologies for him, and show no anger.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I lost my sight when I was eight years old and I have a wife and three children.

It's very hard for a blind man to make a living because nobody wants to hire me. So I do the next best thing. I sit on the corner with a cup and sell pencils. We have moved to several different cities and have done O.K. In this town two cops have told me that begging is against the law and to get moving.

Why should there be a law against a man trying to make a living? My wife is writing this for me and we need a fast answer so please hurry. — TOUGH LUCK

DEAR T.L.: No one needs to beg in America. There are countless welfare organizations who will help you. Write to American Foundation For The Blind, 15 West 16th Street, New York, New York 10011.

Confidential to Advice Needed: You don't want advice. You want me to support your position which is bigoted and undemocratic and I can't do it.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Can necking be safe? When does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers booklet, "Necking And Petting — What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Heloise Hints

DEAR HELOISE

Want to prevent tears and sore eyes when cutting onions? Then do the work under the exhaust fan on your range.

Place the onion on an opened butter carton on top of your stove; then chop the onion right on this with the fan at high speed. The odor goes out the exhaust and doesn't sting your eyes.

By throwing away the carton when you're finished there's no onion smell to clean off your chopping board, either.

Phyllis Kvanme

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE

Your readers might be interested in an idea of mine.

It is a woman's wig with the hair done up in curlers for use by women who don't have time to put their own hair up in curlers before going to the supermarket.

Old Timer

DEAR HELOISE

When your mesh-covered atomizer bulbs crack and fall apart, here's a solution.

If you happen to have a cluster of those large artificial grapes (the soft and pliable vinyl type), just remove one grape from an inconspicuous spot and mash it onto the atomizer stem in place of the old bulb.

These vinyl grapes (some artificial cherries can also be adapted for this) will work indefinitely and as good as the original bulb.

Steve Clensor

The little hole is already there where the grape was attached to its stem and it fits our atomizer perfectly! I did take a hot ice pick and punch a tiny hole in the side of the grape (look at the original bulb) and it worked better for me.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hanner, RD 1, Pittsfield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Louise, to Adolph B. Hamm Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph B. Hamm, RD 2, North Clymer, N.Y.

Miss Hanner, a graduate of Youngsville High School, class of 1967, is employed at New Process Co. Her fiancé, a graduate of Panama Central High School, class of 1966, is employed at Marlin-Rockwell, Jamestown.

The wedding is being planned for October 14th.

Mrs. James S. Valentine, 28 Page Hollow rd., Warren, and Mr. Frank J. Regina Jr., 2178 Dorwood dr., York, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Louise, to Pfc. W. O. Christenson, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Christenson Jr. of 158 Follet Run rd., Warren.

The bride-elect is a 1966 graduate of Warren Area High School and attended Juliet Gibson Finishing School in Philadelphia. She is now employed at Warren General Hospital.

The prospective groom is a 1965 graduate of Warren Area High School and is presently stationed at Camp Pendleton Marine Corps Base, California.

No date has been set for the wedding.

69th Free Methodist Conference

The sixty-ninth session of the Oil City Conference of the Free Methodist Church, now convening at Pleasantville, re-elected area superintendents, the Rev. George Oglesby of Titusville to the Oil City and New Castle districts, the Rev. Floyd J. Taylor of Port Allegany to the Bradford and Erie districts, and the Rev. George Saylor to the DuBois and Tyrone districts.

Presiding at the conference, Bishop Walter S. Kendall of Winona Lake, Indiana, introduced the theme, "The Church's Task of Evangelism", using as his text the Apostle Paul's words to Timothy: "Do the work of an evangelist".

Elected to the stationing committee were laymen William McClellan of Oil City, Joseph Roggenbaum of Bradford, and George Paine of Clarion.

The Rev. Robert E. Williams of Youngsville was appointed assistant secretary of the Conference.

Following the reports of the retired ministers the assembly stood in recognition of the many years of service to the Free Methodist Church. The Rev. L. J. Lindsay of Titusville reported fifty years of service to the Church.

The Conference Board of Christian Education was in charge of the Tuesday evening sitting. Erie First Church was named "Sunday School of the Year" and received the P.C. Millard award. Twenty-five top awards were given to the outstanding Youth Crusaders by Conference C.Y.C. Director Ronald E. Tovey. The Sugar Grove Free Methodist Church was recognized as having won third place in the number of Leadership and Service Training credits earned.

Representing the General Board of Evangelism, the Rev. H. D. Oliver, Conference Superintendent of the New York Conference, from Dallas, Pennsylvania, delivered a challenging message on Wednesday evening.

In his Thursday morning address to the ministers and delegates, Bishop Kendall stated: "Evangelism is the work of the Church in the world. The Church can never fulfill her mission by expecting the world to come to her; she must reach out into the world."

Guest speakers included the Rev. James H. Walker of the Bible Meditation League, the Rev. Lavern Reinhold of Roberts Wesleyan College, and Dr. Arthur Zahnizer, General Education Secretary, Commission on Christian Education.

Dr. Esther Kuhn, medical missionary to Africa, was the special guest of the Women's Missionary Society, and addressed a large gathering at the public missionary rally on Thursday evening. Dr. Kuhn emphasized the necessity of educational and medical work, stating that the missionary has accomplished what he should accomplish when he works himself out of a job. "Today he is an advisor to the native pastor." She also stated that the church in the Congo is strong even in the absence of missionaries. She also related facts concerning her work among the lepers in Burundi.

Mormon Choir To Sing At Chautauqua

Concert Is August 25th

CHAUTAUQUA, N.Y. — The Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle Choir, one of the world's most beloved musical organizations, will sing in the Chautauqua Amphitheater here on Friday, August 25. The choir will give two identical concerts, at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. Seats in a reserved section and general admission sections will be available for both performances of the Special Musical Event.

The 375 voice choir is conducted by Richard P. Condie with Dr. Alexander Schreiner as organist. Their program will follow a format similar to the Sunday radio broadcasts whose inspirational music and message have been a tradition with Americans and Canadians for a third of a century. Richard P. Evans, whose provocative "sermonettes" have been an important part of the Tabernacle Choir radio broadcasts, will give "The Spoken Word" during the Chautauqua concert. Musical selections to be featured on the program will include "The Lord's Prayer," "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," "Finlandia," "Kathleen Mavourneen," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Hallelujah Chorus," "Stars and Stripes Forever," "Dixie" and "God Bless America."

19 years ago, the first Mormon Choir sang in Utah's Valley of the Great Salt Lake, lifting the hearts of Brigham Young's hardy pioneers who had crossed a thousand miles of wilderness to settle in the Rocky Mountains. Today, they continue to sing—now 375 voices strong and if their voices have grown, so too has their audience. Through radio, television, recordings, motion pictures, and concert tours, uncounted millions around the globe are familiar with the fervor and devotion of their singing. Press excerpts from their European and Canadian tours are high in their praise. "The Times," in London says, "Outstandingly beautiful, with ethereal purity of effect." In Copenhagen they called the conlomew will sing a tenor solo, "The Lord Is My Strength" by Wolf; the Quartet Mrs. Daniel Fraunfelter, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Petersen, and Mr. James Bartholomew, will sing "Behold Now, Praise The Lord" by Titcomb.

Vacation Church School will be held August 21-25, 9:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. There will be classes for children four through twelve years of age.

cert "One of the most unique events of art ever experienced. Berlin comments, "The art of this choir is without precedent" and Toronto says "No other choir as fine as this."

No greater praise, however, can be accorded this choir than the joyful hearts of families everywhere who have made the Choir's Sunday morning broadcast a tradition and have listened to their great recordings of "The Messiah" and other sacred music at home celebrations of Christmas and Easter.

Seats in the reserved section of the Chautauqua Amphitheater ($3.50) for the Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle Choir concert may be obtained by writing to "Choir Program", Chautauqua, New York 14722. Purchase price of the tickets must be enclosed with the ticket request. Tickets are also available at the Chamber of Commerce in Jamestown and Bleckarek's Music House in Warren. General Admission tickets will be sold at the gate the day of the performance. No phone reservations will be taken.

What does the future hold for two homeless dogs which the borough police have put in the dog-pound near the west-end airport? One is a black Cocker-type male. The other is part setter and collie with brown, white and black markings, an attractive puppy, a female.

The Warren County Humane Society will show these two dogs Sunday afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock at the Warren Borough dog pound.

"If your family would like a friendly pet, who don't you drive down to the dog pound Sunday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock, while the dogs are being shown?" said Jack Downs, president. "The Humane Society members take turns showing the dogs each week, and you have a real opportunity to get a fine dog."

Also at the Humane Society's temporary shelter at the country place of the Jim Andersens, are nine dogs, plus a litter of seven puppies awaiting new homes. Those interested, please phone 563-4581 after 5:30 p.m. through the week, or any time on week-ends.

PAUL MYERS AND SUE MYERS

Paul Myers and Sue Myers are a terrific team in the current Plowright Playhouse production "Two for the See-Saw." The play may be seen nightly except Mondays and Tuesdays through August 20. Curtain time at the summer theater is 8:30 p.m. and reservations are recommended. (Photo by Mansfield)

THEATER REVIEW

'Two for the See-Saw'

By BETTY RICE

"A gift from the blue" is an apt phrase from "Two for the See-Saw," now being presented at Plowright Playhouse. The gift to the summer theater appears in the person of Sue Myers, who plays the role of Gittel in the production.

Only once before in the memory of this reviewer has one so young deserved rave notices for her performance in an adult vehicle. Both young women had the good fortune to be under the expert direction of Edith O'Hara.

Having seen Sue, a junior at Youngsville High School, one will not soon forget her outstanding stage presence or her exceptional beauty. Recalled as a comparison was the unusual talent and blonde loveliness of Kay Costley, the high school senior, in the role of Desdemona in Warren Player's "Othello."

There was one unfortunate factor in Thursday's performance and that was the lack of a full-house audience. Weather both Wednesday and Thursday obviously contributed to the small houses.

Co-starring with Sue was another Myers, Paul. While the pair is in no way related, they combined to make an effective team. Paul (Jerry) again proved his keen ability and was ideally cast on his end of the "See-Saw."

Paul, a math teacher at Beaty Junior High School, during his 18 years in Warren is familiar to Warren audiences. He has starred in at least five major Player's productions and directed three.

Sue's first acting role was last season in "Merry Wives of Windsor." Before coming to Youngsville three years ago, the utterly charming young actress resided in Texas.

Other credits for the success of William Gibson's sophisticated comedy go to Jim Smith for lighting; Jini Schneck, sound effects; Anne Putnam, Cindy Kopf, set design. Stage props were handled by Jini, Cindy and Margaret Wright. Bill Odell co-directed.

Rain or shine, "Two for the See-Saw" is more than well worth the trip to Plowright Playhouse before the August 20 closing curtain.

Still another Englishman, Alec Rose, has started out in an effort to follow the example of Sir Francis Chichester in sailing around the world all by himself. Britannia may no longer rule the waves—but, apparently, her courageous boys don't know it!

This summer's replacements (except for "Coronet Blue" and "The Saint") are not inspiring great cheers from viewers, as witness your latest vote:

Vic Damone, NBC, 53.3%, average.

Piccadilly Palace, ABC, 43.6%, below average.

Spotlight, CBS, 39.6%, poor.

Away We Go, CBS, 38.8%, poor.

Today, please vote on the two odd-hour shows and two nationally syndicated variety shows as listed in the ballot box.

READERS SPEAK

Dear TV: Everyone I know listens to news and thinks it the best part of TV. While listening to UN meetings, these people felt they were an important part of world affairs. Those who say they buy papers for news and want entertainment in TV, probably read only headlines, anyway. Why is a good, honest survey not taken? Hospitalized people may be the ones answering, as they have time to watch anything. The survey results look fixed as I cannot believe there are that many stupid people answering. — Leona B. Dono-

Dear TV: We believe in the free press. No TV announcer can do what the press can do. But some people are too lazy to read and depend on and believe the reports they hear on TV.—Donald W. Brown, Kissimmee, Fla.

Dear TV: As of now, outside of sports and news, there are very few programs worth seeing. The movie industry must think we are a bunch of morons, from the material they give us.—B. G. Mackie, Waco, Tex.

Dear TV: The public is never taken into consideration. Programs are handed out and the public is asked, "Which do you like?" Good music has been eliminated. Networks present nothing but Welk's line show. There are still millions who represent a tremendous purchasing power over 40 years of age.—Jay H. Harley, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dear TV: People should quit picking on TV. Be grateful we have some good things.—Mrs. W. F. Barclay, Waco, Tex.
